SOCIETY IN NORFOLK

A Quiet Week Precedes the Enforced Quiet of Lent.

THE EVENTS OF THE WEEK

Norfolk Girls Are Resting Upon Their Oars, While the Busy Social Season of the Winter is Passing-Some Card Parties and Teas.

(Special to The Times-Disnatch.)

NORFOLK, VA., Feb. 21.—Girls here the coy. They know when to be seen and when to be as demure as a Quaker, without the passistance of the garb of gray; and when to be devout without the possible hypocrisy of the Puritan, The Norfolk girl is neither Puritan nor Quaker, yet she knows how to assume, if she does not possess the charms of both. Those querulous and malicious persons, who do not know the sterling character of the Norfolk girls, might be inclined to believe that they are assuming a character that they do not possess in remaining so that they for an entire week, because of the ipproach of Lent, when they will have to be quiet. But neither malice nor any other unjust and unworthy sentiment can change the fact that society of Norfoist has been quiet this week, and that the only apparent reason for it is that the first are already cultivating that coy and demure manner, which they must have mext week, even if they have a gown, that has not been seen during the busy social season that is just now passing in Norfoik. The girl who has a gown, that has not been seen, at the card parties and the receptions that have already occurred, has a slim chance of showing it except at an extraordinary or casual eccept at an extraordinary or casual eccepts. occurred, has a slim chance of showing it except at an extraordinary or casual occasion, because Lent is so near. It may not be fair to say that she is demure and coy because she has used all of her new gowns, but it is certain that the season of quiet and the supply of new gowns meet and recognize one another as if they had met before. However that may be, this week has been quiet and next week will be Lent.

FARMVILLE, VA., Feb. 21.—A delightcounty, on last Friday night in honor of St. Valentine. All the guests were invited to personate in some fancy dress and masked face which added greatly to the amusement and enjoyment of the evening, Miss Herndon came in a most becoming outfit as a "Kentucky Cardinal;" Miss Alma French, in white turieton, with darts and arrows, as Cupid; Miss Alice Hobson, in black organdy, as the "Twentleth Century Girl;" Miss Salle Johnson made a sweet-looking "Red Cross Nurse;" Miss Lizzle Johnson and Miss Rosa Goodman, each personated "Queen of Hearts;" Miss Susie Flipping came as "Spring;" Miss Eva Byerley, as "Christ-WERE SPLENDIDLY GOTTEN UP.

"Grandma," with cap and specks.

WERE SPLENDIDLY GOTTEN UP.

The young men personated splendidly.
Dr. Weisiger and Mr. Shepperd, as "John II" and "Uncle Sam;" Hugh French and Robert Gills, the amusing parts of "Alphonse and Gaston;" Kent Flippen, on "The Deaf Professor," with his curpet bag and trumpet; Charles Flippin was "Fatty Felix" at a glance; Tom Goodman was "Salor Boy;" Henry Jones, "Soldier;" Lewis Wilkins, "Happy Hooligan;" Willie Johnson, as "Ghort;" Brazeal Hobson, "Farmer;" Tom Clarke, "Toultry Bushress," and Master Edward Byerley was the "Clown."

The young ladies all assembled at head of the steps with numbered cards; the young men in a room at the foot with corresponding numbers. At a signal girl No. 1 came down, and was met by boy No. 1 and proceeded to the parior, where seats were arranged for the couple, and so on until all the couples were sented, when conversation and laughter ran-high, all in total ignorance as to who his partner might be. After short conversations partners were chosen for cake walks and other amusements.

At 19:30 o'clock all repaired to the ding-room, which was handsomely decorated in evergrens, with red and white hearts predominating. All seated around the table enjoyed merry-making and converse as well as supper. Over the table was suspended a large red heart, from hearts predominating. All sented around the table enjoyed merry-making and converse as well as supper. Over the table was suspended a large red heart, from which a red and white ribbon ran to each plate and to which was fastened an original valentine or verse on each one present, causing no end of fun, each one being rend aloud and enjoyed by all.

Miss Clair Woodruff entertained in a delightful manner a number of her friends last Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Fred Bugs, The most interesting feature of the evening was the large paper heart hung on the curtain. In this large heart was a series of small hearts, each young lady after being blind-folded, stood before the heart and made an attempt to pin an arrow in the gentre heart, which heart foretold w happy marriage. Another feature was the hunting for hearts, which had been hidden under books, rugs, etc. The most successful one in the game was Miss Lucy Manson, she having found the greatest number. A dainty little prize in the shape of a picture of cupid was awarded to Miss Jennie Whitmore for having planed the arrow nearest the centre of the hart. Original little souvenirs were served.

Mr. Frank Taylor who is managing the amateurs who are to present Alabama at the Academy of Music on the night of March 12th for the benefit of the fund which is being raised to defray the expenses in connection with the reunion of the Grand Camp, Confederate Veterans, which is to be held here in September, has announced that after the first performance the organization will probably go bo Richmond and several other cities of the State to present the piece. Mr. Taylor has received directions from Mr. Augustine Thomas, the author of the famous play, in Yegard to the staging, and one or two rehearsals have already been held on the stage of the Academy. Special arrangements have been made in regard to the scenery for the piece; the costumes will be brought from New York, and there seems to be every reason for the belief that th production will be a magnificent one.

The last dance before Lent was given at the Casino Friday night, and the event was a notable one in society circles. THE VALUE OF CHARCOAL Few People Know How Useful it is Preserving Health and Beauty.

Nearly everybody knows that chare tant and purifier in nature, but few real ize its value when taken into the human system for the same cleansing purpose. Charcoal is a remedy that the more you take of it, the better; it is not a drug at all, but simply absorbs the gases and impurities always present in the stomach and intestines, and carries them and impurities always present in the stomach and intestines, and carries them out of the system.

Churcoal sweetens the breath after smoking, drinking or after eating onions and other odorous vegetables.

Charcoal effectually clears and improves the complexion, it whitens the teeth and further acts as a natural and eminently safe cathartic.

It absorbs the injurious gases which collect in the stomach and bowels; it disinfects the mouth and throat from the poison of catarrh.

All druggists sell charcoal in one form or another; but probably the best charcoal and the most for the money is in Stuart's Absorbent Lozenges; they are composed of the finest powdered Willow charcoal and other harmless antiseptics in tablet form, or rather in the form of large, pleasant-tasting lozenges, the charcoal being mixed with honey.

The dally use of these lozenges will soon tell in a much improved condition of the general health, better complexion, sweeter breath and purer blood, and the beauty of it is that no possible harm can result from their continued use, but on the contrary, great benefit.

A Buffulo physician, in speaking of the benefits of charcoal says; "I advise Stuart's Absorbent Lozenges to all patients suffering from gas in the stomach and bowels, and it clears the complexion and purifies the breath, mouth and throat. I also believe the liver is greatly benefited by the daily use of them; they cost but twenty-five cents a box at drug stores, and although in some sense a patent preparation, yet I believe I get more and better charcoal in Stuart's faboration and better charcoal in Stuart's faboration and better charcoal in Stuarts and such sense and and better charcoal in Stuart's and such sense and better charcoal in Stuarts and such sense and and better charcoal in Stuarts and such sense and better charcoal in Stuarts and such such sense. sense a patent preparation, yet I believe I get more and better charcoal in Stu-art's Absorbent Lozenges than in any of the ordinary charcoal tablets."

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
CREWE, VA., Feb. 21.—Mrs. R. S. Beville entertained the members of the W. C. T. U. Tuesday evening. Her handsome parlors were ablaze with light and warmth. Cut flowers filled the air with their fragrance. The White Ribboners were out en masse, and greatly enjoyed the programme, which was well rendered.

enjoyed the programme, which was well rendered.

This was followed by a flower contest, in which all took part. Miss Mazie Gills won the first prize, a beautiful white lily: Mrs. Thomas Collins second prize, a lovely Japonica; Mrs. John Parker the booby, a flower catalogue.

In the next contest, which was "word making," from the name of the great W. C. T. U. leader, Frances E. Willard, Mrs. J. H. Hines won the prize—a block of white ribbon.

The hostess then served delightful refreshments, after which adleus were said coupled with thanks for the most delightful evening of the season.
